ABOUT

My primary focus is supporting the "why" behind everything people do. I guide people to aligning with their "why" through leadership tactics and content creation. I started Knightly Productions to help clients get their "why" out there in amazing ways. I also started Be a Tactical Leader and the Tactical Leadership Podcast in an effort to share lessons from business leaders as well as my own lessons from the battlefield to the boardroom. I am completing my first book, "The Legacy of Love", which is focused on self-mastery and loving yourself. It's due to release this fall!
